Action Against America's 'Rich Minority'

Roosevelt's Plan To Trap 'Tax-evaders'

SPECIAL MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

Treasury Must Be Authorised To Conduct Full Investigation

WASHINGTON, June 1.

Mr. Roosevelt, in a special message to Congress, has asked the Government to abolish tax-evasion in the United States "by a minority of very rich individuals".

He transmitted to Congress a preliminary report on the investigation by the Treasury which declared that it revealed efforts at avoidance and evasion of tax-liability so widespread and amazing in boldness and ingenuity that further action without delay seemed imperative.

Evasion-proof Tax-structure

The President recommended the immediate enactment of legislation aimed at making the present tax-structure evasion proof. He asked authority for the Treasury to conduct a full investigation in all aspects of tax-evasion.

The Report of the Treasury showed that wealthy Americans since 1935 have established 86 Personal Holding companies in the British Bahamas, where there is no income-tax, all allegedly formed for the purpose of avoiding taxes.—Reuter.

INSURGENT PALACE MACHINE-GUNNED

But Govt. Meet With Stiffer Resistance

MADRID, June 1.

The Government offensive in the Guadarrama mountains has extended as far as Lagranja, which Government troops entered after some fighting, but the Insurgents have fortified themselves in the Royal Palace and are offering stiffer resistance.

Government planes throughout the morning machine-gunned the Insurgent lines and bombed the palace at Lagranja and Segovia. The Insurgent airforce retaliated by bombing Chalets Ski Clubs on the Navacerrada Pass occupied by the Alpine Battalion which has held the front throughout the winter.—Reuter.

BRITAIN'S PEACE EFFORTS

LONDON, June 1.

Although Germany and Italy have withdrawn from the naval patrol on the Spanish coasts and discussions of the Non-Intervention Committee, Mr. Eden informed the Commons that they regarded other parts of the International scheme as still applicable to them.

Mr. Eden added that British Government had expressed deep regret at the Italo-German decision, and would continue to do their utmost to prevent any aggravation of the situation. The Government was in constant consultation with other Governments with a view to considering what steps could most usefully be taken to restore the situation. One of the problems they were considering was the Italo-German zones on the Spanish coasts now unpatrolled.—Reuter.

In the Commons, Sir Lambert Ward on behalf of Lord Stanley, Under Secretary of State for India said that in view of separation, Burma would not continue to be represented at Geneva by the Government of India, and arrangements would be made for her participation in League through the United Kingdom Government. Where necessary Burma would be specially represented on the United Kingdom Government delegation. It was not proposed to apply for separate membership for Burma.

BETRAYAL OF ELECTORATE! BUT BY WHOM?

U. P. 'Puppet' In Line With His Tribe From Other Provinces

(From Our Correspondent)

BENARES, June 1.

Hon. Maharaj Kumar Sir Vijaya of Vizianagaram, Minister of Justice, U. P. Government paid a visit to Mirzapur yesterday. Replying to the address presented by the District Board of Mirzapur, the Minister observed it was constitutionally impossible for the Governor to give assurance as asked by Congress. Refusal of Congress to accept office amounted to refusal to address themselves to certain urgent problems, consideration of which could not under any circumstances be postponed without hardship to the sufferers without ministry the provinces would have been reduced to a system of autocratic Government which would not have been responsible to the people.

HE TALKS OF "BETRAYAL"

"Is not a deliberate attempt to wreck the Constitution and, in short, to put the Legislature out of action", I ask, "betrayal of real interests of the electorate which returned these members".

The Maharaj Kumar referred to Lord Zetland's [illegible] and the U. P. Governor's Nainital speech and trusted wiser counsels would prevail among Congressmen and they would not miss this opportunity of utilising the Constitution to do good to our country.

GROWING CLOVES IN INDIA

Govt. Appoint Special Officer

SIMLA, June 1.

It is understood that Mr. Yegna Narayana Iyer, lately Director of Agriculture of the Mysore Government, has been appointed by the Government of India as Special Officer to explore the possibilities of clove cultivation in India. At present cloves are grown in Mysore, Malabar, Travancore and in parts of Assam, but so far not on any commercial scale.

It will be remembered that Mr. Iyer was president of the Agricultural Section of the Science Congress last year.

It is understood that Mr. Mohd. Rafi Secretary of the Legislative Assembly has cut short his holiday by two weeks and is now expected to arrive in Bombay by the mail boat "Ranchi" on June 10 and at Simla on June 12.

Sir Abdur Rahim is arriving in Bombay by the "Mooltan" on August 12 and in Simla on August 14.—A. P.

Questioned regarding the latest statement by Lord Zetland, he said that there was nothing new in it that required a reply.—A. P.

Finance Bill Surprise

Attack On Br. National Defence Contribution Scheme

LONDON, June 1.

Substantial departures from the National Defence Contribution Scheme were foreshadowed by Mr. Chamberlain in the Commons replying to the debate on the Finance Bill in which Conservatives and others criticised the scheme, and Sir John Simon stated that the Concessions already made would reduce the yield of the tax to 15 millions a year instead of 20 to 25 estimated in the budget, while Mr. Churchill urged the Government "to drop the whole thing".

Mr. Chamberlain announced that he had decided upon a simpler tax with a larger yield. It is not proposed to move in the Committee the part of the Bill dealing with the National Defence Contribution.

Meanwhile, the Government would work out other proposals to find a simpler tax upon the profits of industry, estimated to produce not less than 25 millions a year. The new proposals require new financial resolutions before they could be embodied in the Finance Bill.—Reuter.

SIR SORABJI POCHKHANAVALA

No Immediate Anxiety For His Condition

BOMBAY, Tuesday.

There were some wild rumours, ostensibly started by some interested parties, in the Bombay Stock Exchange this afternoon, that the condition of Sir Sorabji N. Pochkhanavala, who was operated upon this morning was causing anxiety. This caused a commotion in the Share Bazaar and a sharp fall took place in shares.

NO CAUSE FOR ANXIETY

On inquiries being made, we learn that there was no reason to feel immediate anxiety for his condition. Sir Sorabji had been suffering from an abscess on his back, which was operated upon.

The operation was performed by one of the experienced surgeons assisted by other doctors. The operation was successful and the patient passed his day in good condition.

We have been assured that there is no reason for any immediate anxiety for his condition. He is receiving best medical assistance available.

TELLING JAPANESE COMPETITION?

SIMLA, June 1.

In connection with the announcement made by the Government of India that the Central Government is proposing to place an officer on special duty to examine cases of Minor Industries in India which are adversely affected by Japanese competition, the Associated Press understands that no final selection has yet been made, but it is believed that Mr. R. K. Nehru I.C.S., officiating Deputy Secretary, Commerce Department, is likely to be chosen to perform the duty, while Dr. John Mathai, Director of Commercial Intelligence, may be deputed to assist him.—A. PUPPETS' UNENVIABLE POSITION

They Have Neither Public Nor Legislature's Support Says Pant

BENARES, June 1.

Pandit Govind Ballabh Pant, the Leader of the Congress Party in the U. P. Legislative Assembly, presided over the Benares District Political Conference last night. There was a large attendance of delegates and others from the villages.

Addressing the Conference Pandit Pant said: "To-day political power is in the hands of the masses. They have eschewed the Rajas and Maharajas and have elected ordinary Congressmen to represent them. To-day there is no responsible Government. Certain persons have been set up as ministers. These strange people have been set up to act according to the wishes of the Governor. Their condition is pitiable; they have neither the support of the public nor the Legislature, and can do no good to the public".

HOARE QUOTED

Explaining the Congress position Pandit Pant observed "The Congress wants [illegible] Governor that he will [illegible] with the Congress ministers' day to day work, but if the Governor finds himself unable to act according to his ministers' advice he should make a public announcement of this fact and dismisss the ministers. Pandit Pant felt that was the proper constitutional course to adopt and he quoted extracts from the evidence given by Sir Samuel Hoare as Secretary of State for India before the Joint Select Committee on the present constitutional reform".

CLOSE UP YOUR RANKS

Pandit Pant appealed to Congressmen to put aside their differences as to the form of future government and devote all their energies to the attainment of the power of governance of their country. He said that when they had that power they would be able to carry out any scheme for the welfare and happiness of their countrymen.

He pointed out that the agrarian question was the greatest problem of the day and he exhorted Congressmen to go to the villages and establish Ashrams in suitable centres and to work day and night for the improvement of the condition of the villagers.—A. P.

TO SAFEGUARD MINOR INDUSTRIES

SIMLA, June 1.

A Communique states that unofficial advisers to the Government of India in connection with the Indo-Japanese trade negotiations emphasised 'inter alia' the necessity of protecting the interests of minor industries in India which were adversely affected by Japanese competition.

This subject was, however, excluded from the scope of the negotiations which resulted in the continuance of the Indo-Japanese Commercial Convention of 1934 and the new Protocol dealing with the export of raw cotton to Japan and the import into India from that country of cotton piecegoods.

The Central Government now propose to place an officer on special duty to examine the cases of these minor industries, and any such minor industries in India as claim to be suffering from Japanese competition are invited to approach the Commerce Department of the Government of India without delay [illegible] statement of their [illegible]

SALUTARY EFFECT OF CURFEW ORDER

46 Arrested For "Defiance Of Police Ban"

BOMBAY, Wednesday. (2 a.m.)

The Curfew order and the vigorous enforcement of the preventive methods adopted by the City Police had a salutary effect in the turbulent areas of the city last night.

46 ARRESTS

The police arrested 46 persons for carrying lethal weapons in the prohibited areas in contravention of the orders of the Commissioner of Police.

There were two cases of assault reported to the police upto 2 a.m. The first of these was from Two Tanks and the other from Thakurdwar. Neither case is serious.

No Trams After 10 p.m.

The entire suspension of the tram service after 10 p.m. all over the city and the closing of all shops in the disturbed areas in compliance with the orders of the police, and the stoppage of all vehicular traffic, drove everyone off the roads and the City presented a deserted appearance when the Commissioner of Police and his Deputies went round the whole of the disturbed locality.

'Pacca' Police 'Bandobust'

The police 'bandobust' was all that could have been desired on this occasion as there were numerous patrols and pickets passing through the bye-lanes and alleys. This helped to put an end to stray assaults.

The situation is now absolutely quiet.

CURFEW ORDER

BOMBAY, Tuesday.

After a few hours orgy of communal disturbance last night, the city has put on a normal appearance.

Not a single case of assault was reported till 1-30 p.m.

The Chief Presidency Magistrate has issued an Order under Section 144 Criminal Procedure Code, firstly prohibiting for a period of fourteen days assemblages of more than four persons in the city of Bombay; secondly prohibiting people from being out in the streets between the hours of 10 p.m. and six a.m. The latter Order applies to the disturbed localities and their vicinity only; that is the area between Byculla and Crawford Market. The Order comes into effect immediately.

Ban On Lethal Weapons

The Commissioner of Police has issued an Order under the City Police Act preventing people from carrying any lethal weapons like knives, sticks, sodawater bottles etc.

A further Order will be issued directing the closing down of liquor shops by 9-30 P.M. instead of the usual 11 P.M. with a view to prevent disturbances that might be caused.

Orders also will be issued specifying the routes through which funeral processions should be taken.

The official figures of casualties in the disturbance last night are as follows:—

72 injured.
4 dead.

The fourth man died this morning at the G. T. Hospital. It appears that he had been assaulted near Two Tanks last night. He went to his friends and there fell down unconscious and he was removed to G. T. Hospital where he died this morning.

The J.J. Hospital Casualty staff, who were obviously overworked last night had an easier time today. So did the staff of the other hospitals, though they were in readiness to meet eventualities.

The Police bandobust at all the [illegible] centres has been "Pucca."

Police guards have been stationed at all the vital points in the disturbed area and police patrols have been going round the disturbed area.

Mr. W. R. G. Smith, the Commissioner of Police, Mr. O'Ren, Deputy Commissioner, C.I.D., and other high police officials went round the disturbed area this morning.

The authorities have taken prompt action and they hope there will be no more trouble.

STONES THROWN AT POLICE

BOMBAY, Tuesday.

Alleged to have been found throwing stones at the police and the buildings occupied by the Hindus at 5th Kamathipura Lane, Babu Abdul and Abdul Rahiman were arrested by the Nagpada Police and placed before the Presidency Magistrate, Mazagaon, to-day.

In applying for remand the police officer stated that hearing of some trouble in the locality of the fifth Kamatipura Lane, a batch of police was sent to the spot to disperse the crowd. When the police were engaged in the discharge of their duties the accused were found hurling brickbats and trying to run away, when both of them were arrested.

Abdul Rahiman was stated to have defied the police when he was arrested.

Both the accused were ordered to be remanded to police custody for fourteen days pending police enquiries.

Young Butcher Dies

When the Police resorted to firing last night to disperse the two parties, of hooligans who were engaged in a free fight it is stated, that Abdul Karim, a young butcher aged 21, was hit in the shoulder and died shortly afterwards.

It is stated that Sergeant Sherman, with a party of Constables, went to restore order at Bapu Khote Street last night. The Police were, it is alleged, attack-

Kurla Citizens Support Democratic Front

Mass Meeting Condemns Those Opposing Restoration Of Peoples' Administration

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT).

A mass meeting of Kurla citizens was held on the 29th May under the auspices of the Citizens' Democratic Front, at the Belgrammy Road Maidan, as a part of the campaign for the restoration of the Municipal affairs to the people.

In spite of some festivities in the locality the meeting was attended by over 800 citizens.

Mr. J. S. Pareira, President of the Democratic Front, opened the proceedings of the meeting by explaining the purpose of the propaganda meetings that were being held all over the town on behalf of the Democratic Front.

Mr. Godshe said: "The present fight of the Democratic Front is a fight with the Government of Bombay for our primary right that lies within the framework of Imperialist law. We must atleast have whatever was won by the people of India within the restricted limits of the Imperial Constitution."

People's Inability.

Mr. T. T. Suryawanshi, Secretary of the Democratic Front, said: "Some fuss is being made by interested cliques about the inability of the people of Kurla to run their own municipality. The only guarantee for the efficient functioning of the municipality is an enlightened electorate and we the representatives of the Red Flag will see on behalf of the Democratic Front that the electorate is enlightened."

Mr. Potnis, a prominent citizen of the locality, then moved the following resolution:

"The citizens of Kurla have had their municipal administration based on the elected representatives of the people since the year 1878. In November 1934, that is after over fifty years of municipal administration by the people, the Government of Bombay suspended the municipality and imposed a top-heavy administration conducted by administrators. We vehemently disapprove of this supercession which is a glaring violation of the most primary and traditional right of the people of Kurla.

"This meeting therefore wholeheartedly stands behind the banner of struggle raised by the Citizens' Democratic Front—a struggle against the present autocratic administration and for the restoration of the municipality to the people."

Mr. R M. Jambhekar seconded the resolution.

Mr. A. R. I Fitvalla, vice-president Democratic Front, speaking in support of the resolution said: "The Government of Bombay have taken away our most primary and traditional right since the end of 1934. This suspension of our right is a gross violation of even our restricted democratic liberties; it is rendered even more gross in view of the New Constitution granted to India and in view of its being tom tomed as a further step towards responsible self-Government in India I therefore expect every self-respecting citizens in Kurla to stand by this resolution and to strengthen our Democratic Front."

The resolution was then put to vote and was unanimously carried amidst loud applause.

Mr. Shidik Master then moved another resolution which was unanimously passed.

AROUND THE COURTS

BOMBAY, Tuesday.

The Chief Presidency Magistrate sentenced Francis Lawrence Andrade to one day's simple imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 1,000, in default six months' rigorous imprisonment, to-day.

Andrade was arrested in Bombay on April 21, while he was attempting to dispose of some diamonds. The Police recovered from him various articles of jewellery valued at Rs. 4,880. This formed part of jewels valued at Rs. 6,760, belonging to Mr. D. F. Chinoy, who was at that time away at Kashmir.

It appears that Mr. Chinoy employed the accused in Poona as a domestic servant, on April 1, but discharged him a few days later.

The accused admitted having stolen the property and prayed for mercy.

The Colaba police unearthed nine counterfeit rupees conceded in a urinal at Apollo Bunder on Monday evening.

This is stated to be the result of the prompt action of a Bidi shop-keeper, who handed over to the police, a man who is stated to have tried to pass off a counterfeit coin as genuine.

This story was narrated at the Chief Presidency Magistrate's Court to-day when Mala Hira was put up on a charge of uttering a coin.

It was alleged that the accused went to a grain shop at Colaba Road on Monday evening and purchased six pies worth of saffron. He tendered in payment a rupee said to be counterfeit and obtained the change.

Next he is stated to have tried to play the same game on a Bidi shop-keeper who handed him over to the police.

The police recovered a sum of Rs. 16 from his person and nine counterfeit rupees from a urinal.

The accused was remanded to police custody till June 15.

Two brothers, both of them alleged deportees, were arrested by a police constable, as one of them complained that he was assaulted by the other.

It was alleged that on Monday afternoon, a police constable noticed a crowd at Kumbhartukda. He went there to make inquiries when one Chunilal Javerchand complained to him that he had been assaulted by his brother Amrutlal Javerchand.

Both of them were taken to the Princess Street Police Station, where it was discovered that both of them had been externed to Diw. They were remanded into custody till June 15 by the Chief Presidency Magistrate on Tuesday.

Death due to an accidental fall from the second floor, was the verdict returned by the Coroner's Jury at an inquest held to-day on the body of Kursondas Shivdas, an eight-year-old boy residing with his parents at Laxmi Narayan Building, Matunga.

The boy, it appears, was playing on the balcony on the second floor at 11-45 a.m. yesterday when his mother was taking her meals. There was a pile of bedding on the balcony and the boy got on top of it and was looking down over the railings, when he lost his balance and fell down. Hearing the cries of his sister, who was also playing with him, the mother went down and picked up the child. A doctor was sent for, but the boy died before the doctor could render any help.

An alleged returned deportee and three others who seated on a footpath, were concerting plans of action, were arrested by the Palton Road police last night.

Abdul Kadar Sheikh Husain was externed to Hyderabad, Deccan, on March 25. But he is stated to have violated the order of the Commissioner of Police and returned to the city.

Abdul Kader and three others —Ahmedali Ahmedrazak, Habib Juma and Khairulla Abdulla—were put up before the Chief Presidency Magistrate to-day and were remanded in police custody.

An inquest was held on the body of Amirzada Hukmat, (35), a native of Peshawar, and a verdict of death due to "accidental fall into the hold of the s.s. "Queda" from a height of 25 feet" was returned at the Coroner's Court.

A boy of six was removed to G. T. Hospital on Sunday afternoon in an unconscious condition and he died there shortly afterwards. Mystery still surrounds the circumstances under which the boy met with such a sudden death.

On Sunday morning the boy went to sleep and when his mother tried to wake him up, he is said to have been found unconscious. His parents at once removed him to G. T. Hospital where he died at about 6 p.m.

It is stated further that the boy had a wound on his head and how he received it is not known.

Inquest was adjourned to June 12, pending the report of the Chemical Analyser.

The case in which charges of negligent driving were preferred against Sohrab A. Umrigar, consequent to an accident which occurred on Parbhadevi Road, Worli, a year ago, was disposed of in the Dadar Court yesterday.

The accused was acquitted, the Court having satisfied itself that the incident was purely accidental.

The accused paid Rs 75 by way of damages.

MADRAS GOVT. MUST MAKE AMENDS

Ban On Summer School Hasty And Based On Suspicion; Lathi Charge On Students Was Unprovoked, Says Civil Liberties Union

The Civil Liberties Union, Bombay, has addressed the following letter to Sir K. V. Reddy, Chief Minister, Madras:

We understand from the resolution passed by the Madras Branch of the Indian Civil Liberties Union, from newspaper reports and from letters received from responsible leading individuals that the Socialistic Summer School of Economics and Politics and Training camp at Kottapattam has been declared unlawful by a special notification under Section 16 of the Criminal Law Amendment Act of 1908 issued in a Gazette Extraordinary.

The institution as far as we could find out was being conducted under the auspices of organisations that are not under Government ban and staffed by teachers with academic qualifications and training that would be acceptable to any University in the Country. The schedule of courses given at the school were also published far ahead of time to canvass students.

No secrecy seems to have been observed either in the start or during the twenty days the school was allowed to run. We, therefore, fail to see any justification in the accusation made in the Government Communique that "the camp was to instruct young men and women in Communistic and revolutionary activities to overthrow the Government."

Based on Suspicion.

Those responsible for the organisation of the school, we believe, were within their rights to refuse the alleged demands of the Government to permit police officials to audit the classes. The demand obviously is wrong in principle. The facts before us drive us to the inevitable conclusion that the authorities were hasty and acted on mere suspicion.

The dismissal of the school, once the decision was taken, could undoubtedly have been effected in a more peaceful way. All those who defied the order could have been quietly arrested and taken to jail. A severe lathi charge without provocation on a harmless group of students seems unwarranted. A number of students appear to have been sufficiently injured as to necessitate their removal to a hospital. Concern is expressed about the life of a few. Similar groups in other countries are now dispersed by more humane means. But in India cruel old methods are adhered to without any serious regard to the suffering and sometimes loss of life that they entail.

The suppression of an educational institution which has been carrying on its activities in the usual normal manner through resort to an Act which has been condemned by all sections of progressive opinion is an unjustifiable interference with civil liberties and has given rise to grave suspicions as to the good faith of the Government in maintaining such rights. Indian Civil Liberties Union while registering its protest against this action of the Madras Government hopes that even at this stage steps would be taken to make amends for the damage done.

Rao Bahadur K. R. Bhadrapur, Collector of Surat, has taken over charge from Mr. J. C. Bolton, I.C.S., who has been appointed Under-Secretary in the Finance Department of the Government of Bombay.

SHIFTING FORT MARKET

Provision To Be Made In 1938-39 Budget

BOMBAY, Tuesday.

The 34th report of the Lands Sub-Committee of the Municipal Improvements Committee on the question of shifting the Fort Market from its present site and locating it in the Hornby Road-Ballard Pier Scheme came up and was adopted by the Improvements Committee this evening.

The report stated that the Commissioner has fixed a suitable site.

The Sub-Committee recommended that the papers connected thereof be sent to the Corporation through the Markets and Gardens Committee.

The Commissioner was asked to submit plans and estimates at an early date and to make the necessary provision in the Budget for the year 1938-39.

The question of removal arose since the Market was in a dilapidated condition and its situation on a very valuable plot as such depreciated the value of the other plots in the neighbourhood. Several other plots hitherto suggested were turned down on one ground or other.

Another subject which engaged the attention of the Committee was the lay out of the front line of the Worli Reclamation.

The following resolution of Mr. Mancherji E. Joshi was adopted:—

'That in view of the lay out of the front line of the Worli Reclamation having been completely changed the Municipal Commissioner be requested to submit a revised lay out for the rear plots so as to fit in with the changes made in the front line'.

DAUGHTER HAD CRYING SPELLS

"Nerves" Brought on by Worrying

AFTER KRUSCHEN "A DIFFERENT GIRL"

A mother writes:—"Early this spring my eighteen-year-old daughter had a nervous breakdown. After doctoring for over five weeks, she didn't seem to make much improvement. She still had crying spells and fits of the blues. So I decided to give Kruschen Salts a trial, starting with a large half-teaspoonful in hot water first thing in the morning. In less than a week the crying spells had stopped and she began to sleep better. That was three months ago. To-day she is full of pep, and sleeps and eats well. She is a different girl. I am still giving her the little daily dose."—(Mrs.) M.L.

The commonest cause of depression is partial constipation—an insidious complaint, because the sufferer is seldom aware of it. It means the gradual accumulation of body poisons which dull the mind, damp the spirits, and lower the whole vitality.

Kruschen Salts make constipation impossible. They help the liver and kidneys to perform their natural duties in a natural way; they clear away gently, but completely, all poisonous waste matter, and ensure an uncontaminated blood-stream. Therefore, if you keep to Kruschen, you need never know the meaning of melancholy; never feel "nervy" or depressed.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Chemists, Stores and Bazars.

TALK OF THE SUBURBS

(BY A SUBURBAN MAN)

Every meal finds millions of Bananas being consumed throughout our city and suburbs. Do you know from where you get all this supply?

During the last weekend I did a lot of sight seeing in the remote parts of Bassein our once historic city.

Around Virar and Agashi I saw vast gardens of banana plantations with some lakhs of branches of bananas hanging about. These loongs or banana trusses as they are called, come to maturity throughout the year.

The plantations are grown in solid blocks, thousands of trees strong, the gardens being banked round to allow intensive irrigation which the first class banana demands.

There is money in this banana business and good money too. The current prices per loong are six to fourteen annas according to variety and quality—what a planter only needs to make sufficient money is about an acre of land.

A visit to these plantations, I think, would prove very interesting and an educational one too.

CENTRAL FIRE STATION

An urgent need of the suburbs is a well-equipped fire brigade. The 1935-36 administration report of the Vile Parle Municipality stresses the urgent need for a fire brigade, the report urges upon Government the necessity for the establishment of a Central Fire Station. Bandra has a fire brigade, which I wish to say has done some really good work, but I feel that in case of a very big fire this brigade would not save the disaster. The idea of a Central Fire Station is an excellent one and this could be well-equipped if the Vile Parle-Andheri and the Bandra-Santa Cruz Municipalities contributed towards its upkeep.

Air services of India's second 'plane "Courier" VT-AFY

BOMBAY-RAJKOT RETURN FLIGHT

Joys Of Trip On Air Services Of India's 'Plane

"Passenger" writes:—

Air Services of India's 2nd 'plane Air Speed 'Courier' VT-AFY a six-seater, left Bombay on Monday from Juhu Aerodrome at 7 a.m. with full load for Bhavnagar and Kathiawar States. It was piloted by Flt.-Lieutenant Duncanson and the Chief Ground Engineer Mr. Mcwade also accompanied them. There were four passengers to Kathiawar. The 'plane went normally on its track.

We went to Bhavnagar first and during the journey from Bombay to Bhavnagar we recognised many villages and enjoyed beautiful scenery. We were sometimes below the clouds and sometimes above them.

The flight was so beautifully managed by Flt.-Lieutenant Duncanson that over the places of interest such as Bassein and Daman the 'plane was brought to such altitude that the passengers enjoyed the beautiful picture of salt pans of Bassein, the Fort, and the Daman harbour. We passed Bulsar, Navsari and Surat within a short time, and arrived near the mouth of the Narbada river. We were heading all the way towards north but Lt. Duncanson, in a joyful mood, took a turn to left and after a few minutes over the Gulf of Cambay and were then brought over the land of Kathiawar. The 'plane hovered over a town beautifully circling twice or thrice and then proceeded to Bhavnagar town, intimating to the public of Bhavnagar by the peculiar noise of the "Courier" engine that the aeroplane was landing at the Bhavnagar aerodrome.

We landed at Bhavnagar in right time and after refuelling the machine we proceeded to Rajkot. We arrived at Rajkot.

There the State engineer and Mr. Durgawadeker (Dada) received us on the aerodrome and the Rajkot Durbar was pleased to send us the State car in which we went to the town for our lunch. Since the petrol supply of the right grade was not available at Porbandar we had to drop the idea of proceeding to Porbandar.

RETURN TRIP

We left Rajkot on our return trip to Bhavnagar at about 3 p.m. and reached quite comfortably at Bhavnagar at 4, carrying 3 passengers for Bombay. After refuelling at Bhavnagar we left the aerodrome at 4-30 p.m. In happy and cheerful mood the technical staff and the passengers got into the cock-pit and left for Bombay.

The return journey was also quite happy and normal and we enjoyed the scenery. We landed at Juhu aerodrome at 6-15 in the evening in right time to meet the members of our family.

I can only say that during the entire trip to and fro Lt. Duncanson managed it so beautifully well that in future I can say with confidence that public will take advantage of this passenger service from Bombay to Kathiawar States.

All the necessary information regarding the passenger services will be available from the Company's Office at Mubarak Manzil.

VISAS TO IRAQ

Advice To Pilgrims

His Majesty's Consul, Bagdad, reports that he has received during the past year a number of complaints from Indian pilgrims that the Iraqi Consular authorities in Syria have charged them for full visas for their return journey through Iraq when only transit visas were necessary. The Iraqi Consular authorities in question have justified their action on the ground that these pilgrims did not appear in person to convince the authorities of their "bona fides" as travellers in transit, contenting themselves with sending a guide to represent the whole party.

With a view to obviating similar complaints in future pilgrims are advised to apply in person to the Iraqi Consular authorities for visas for Iraq, and not to leave matters to a guide.

"Flying Ranee"

The Acting General Traffic Manager, B. B. & C. I. Railway, writes:—

I notice a suggestion from a correspondent in your columns this morning that "The Flying Ranee" should be started from Church Gate Station at 2.45, halting at Bombay Central, and leaving there at 3-10.

I realise that it might suit some people if this could be done, but should like to explain that it is not possible to deal with steam trains at Church Gate Station, owing to the limited accommodation there. The station was never designed for this purpose.

Then, even if the proposal were feasible, it would mean that "The Flying Ranee" would have to start from the local station at Bombay Central, which would not be so convenient for passengers joining at that station.

I would, however, like to point out that there is already an electric train leaving Church Gate Station at 2-45 and reaching Bombay Central at 2-55 in ample time to catch "The Flying Ranee" there. Similarly, on the return journey on Monday, there are suitable connecting electric trains to bring passengers into the Fort in time for business.

BOMBAY: WEDNESDAY, JUNE 2, 1937

LITTLE COMMON GROUND

Addressing the Conservative India and the 1922 Committees in the House of Commons on Monday, Lord Zetland said "it was a tragedy that many men of brilliant attainments and high ideals were being lost to the service of India as a result of what he regarded as a failure to appreciate the intentions of the framers of the Constitution and the actual relations between the Governors and Ministers contemplated by the India Act of 1935." Congressmen—for evidently these are referred to here—have good reason to distrust the intentions of British politicians. When often and often the very letter and spirit of definite solemn pledges to India have been lightheartedly violated by them, how is it possible to rely on mere intentions which can be even more lightheartedly repudiated? If the relations between ministers and Governors as contemplated by the Act are really the same as those desired by the Congress, why was the Congress demand turned down by the Governors as being constitutionally incapable of being conceded by them? And why is it still rejected even when it has been so interpreted that it is impossible for Governors to regard it as unconstitutional? There is certainly a tragedy in the situation that so many Indians of brilliant attainments, who can easily replace the highest imported administrators in a free India should have to bandy words for elementary rights.

Congress And Deadlocks

In the course of the same address Lord Zetland ascribed to Mr. C. Rajagopalachari a statement that "while the Congress in Office would not avoid deadlocks should circumstances give rise to them," they would not themselves seek to create them and added that here was "common ground" and "it was a profound disappointment that Mr. Rajagopalachari had been unable to accept the invitation to form a Ministry," Lord Zetland has evidently plucked Mr. C. Rajagopalachari's statement from the context and stripped it of reservations that are well understood by Indians. Even then there is little common ground between the Congress and the Governors, except when the latter are prepared to do what the former wants them to do. The general policy of the Congress, to be pursued both in and outside the legislatures, has been stated in its various resolutions and in the Election Manifesto to be to wreck the present Constitution as early as possible and replace it by another formed by a Constituent Assembly. That policy, of course, necessitates deadlocks in the legislatures, but to be effective and supported by the public they must be brought about on really important issues and should not be forced on minor ones. That is all that Mr. C. Rajagopalachari means by the statement partially quoted above. He cannot and does not concede more to Governors. Indeed there can be no real common ground between those who seek complete independence and those who oppose it.

Summon The Legislatures

If there is to be a settlement between Congress and the Governors, let it be on issues clearly understood. Prof. A. B. Keith, in his letter to Reuters, seems to be extremely anxious that somehow the two parties should be brought together. "Ultimately," he says, "I have no doubt some accord will be achieved, unless both sides are insincere in their professions of devotion to the best interests of India." Apart from the fact that a breakdown can result even if only one side is insincere, we should for obvious reasons welcome an accord but only on the terms finally offered by the Congress, which do not admit of any compromise. A patched up settlement, if one is possible at all, will do no good to either side and can only delay the consummation of the Congress ideal, namely, replacing the present Constitution by one framed by Indians themselves. In any case let the legislatures be convened at once, if those who talk expansively on parliamentary tradition and constitutional decencies have any real regard for the constitutional rights of the Indian electorate. Let the electorate decide in whose devoted service to their best interests they have most confidence. The legislatures will also show if there is any real common ground between Congress and the Governors.

Tragedy Of Spain

The Spanish situation has grown graver in spite of Mr. Anthony Eden. The situation is grave not because of any fear of immediate international complications—European democracies have neither principles nor the courage of them—but because the Fascist International seems to have made up its mind openly and formally to assist the rebels. The Spanish Note to the League of Nations is a clear vindication of the Government. But even supposing it were not, the refusal in advance of Germany and Italy to accept an international inquiry is significant enough. They have freed themselves from even the theoretical obligations of Non-Intervention which they owed to the Committee. And they have done more. In spite of the Nazi declaration that the bombardment of Almeria closed retaliatory action, the German squadron had bombarded Cartegena also. Moreover, German forces in Spanish waters are to be re-inforced further. Italy has declared her "absolute solidarity" with Germany, has withdrawn from the control scheme and is considering sending more warships! A day earlier, an Italian submarine had torpedoed and sunk a Spanish merchant ship. All this means only one thing. Italy and Germany, having failed to conquer Spain through Franco, have decided to strike a direct blow themselves. But, according to Mr. Eden the rape of Spain is not so "grave" as an effort to check—in the ultimate interest of world peace—. Italian and German militarism and expansion.

Prompt Measures

It is very gratifying to note that the Police and the Executive of Bombay have lost no time in accepting the challenge of the rioters and their instigators. We compliment them heartily on the elaborate measures that they have taken so promptly. And we have very little doubt that vigilant enforcement of these measures will quickly restore both peace and public confidence. Some of the orders, for instance, the Curfew Order, will undoubtedly cause a little inconvenience to the public. But we cannot deny that they are quite justifiable and we hope that they will be modified and even withdrawn as soon the necessity for them disappears. The first need, of course, is to fight the menace that raised its ugly head on Monday night. We are glad that these measures have already helped the Police to secure a more or less firm grip over the situation. Thanks to the Curfew Order, the rounding up of bad characters, the arrest of many persons who carried lethal weapons in contravention of police orders, the patrolling of even byelanes and alleys and other suitable measures, very few serious assaults took place on Tuesday. This is, however, not all. The marvels must be made painfully to realise that hooliganism masquerading as religious fanaticism cannot pay.

RIOTS & THE CITIZENS

Plea For Action In Fighting The Evil

(BY: "ROMANUSCIVIS.")

The feeling with which every decent-minded person hears or reads the news of riot, whatever the degree of its proximity, is one of simple disgust not unmixed with an amount of exasperation and a sense both of helplessness and disgrace.

Whose Responsibility?

We feel helpless when confronted with the incidents of communal riot because, despite our strongest disapproval of these acts of madness they are not made impossible. We certainly share the moral responsibility involved in the incidence of riot in so far as the collective good sense and will in the matter of such vital importance as social existence itself should fail effectively to impose itself and curb what can only be an act of anti-social and criminal consciousness

Condemnation Not Enough

Mere condemnation of the evil from which all of us have to suffer, if not actual loss or injury to our person or property, in, what is much worse, the humiliation and loss of self-respect with our sense of civic responsibilities, is hardly of much use. It must be supported with concrete action in so far as it lies in our power to do anything about it. Actually, however we take shelter behind a deplorable indifferentism. We swear "Let the l——s destroy each other—the verminous scum." Admitted: but how should we look at it when the scum threatens to be a menace to collective peace? It does not destroy itself but tries to destroy peaceable members of society—this is the entire riot psychology.

Psychology Of Riot

Although a riot is essentially a creation of criminal mentality, it is always charged with definite possibilities: it is a phenomenon of cowardice and madness that temporarily spreads and invades the stable control without which social or civilised existence is unthinkable. And its tragic sequel produces the horror of the innocent dead or maimed, destruction of property, destruction of peace—a horror that we are expected to fight if we are to lay claim to any civic responsibility.

Society Pays

Do we not pay for the acts of the criminals who destroy property during a riot? It is a matter of disgrace for us that we should allow ourselves to be blackmailed in this manner, that the law-abiding citizens of this place should have to pay out of their hard-earned earnings for the destructive acts of an insane mob. And the worst part of it is that we do not think it worthwhile to probe the matter deeper and adopt measures that could meet the situation. It is not the mere havoc of violence and destruction that matters. The world at this moment, perhaps has lost all sense of these homicidal and destructive acts when it suffers wholesale horrible bombing of open cities. We may one day have to go through the ordeal: but there is at least some amount of heroism in being destroyed like the brave Spanish people. There is some meaning in it, some justification of martyrdom.

Wanted Action

Criminals, like the proverbial poor, will always remain with us and it is perhaps impossible totally to keep them out of doing harm. But it is the duty of the better elements of society to protect themselves against the activities of the criminals who succeed not merely in starting the conflagration of the riot but in letting loose a mob-hysteria to which the less stable, if normally non-criminal, elements succumb. Our effort should be concentrated on eradicating the mob susceptility in every possible manner in the name of elementary peace, order and civic existence.

Anti-Swadeshi Tariff Policy

A correspondent writes:—

Permit me to point out that the British Indian customs duties on Goa mangoes have been imposed on the basis of reciprocal treatment. The correspondent who makes a grievance about it may not be aware of the fact that Indian industries and products are avoidably handicapped inasmuch as foreign imports are encouraged by the Colonial Administration while Swadeshi products shut out.

There is, therefore, no reason why we should forego our revenue so long as the Goa Government is pursuing a tariff policy that hits both Goan producers and our industries. One sympathises with the Goan population of course: but it is obviously their duty to induce the Colonial administration to modify its disastrous policy.

Lazaro Cardenas:

Mexico's Proletarian President

(By "SIRIUS")

Reuter reports an incident of trouble in the Mexican oil-fields despite the efforts of the Cardenas' Government to avert a workers' strike.

It is, of course, difficult in the absence of detailed information, to write about the origin of the strike situation or the factors underlying it. But one thing is certain:—The Cardenas' regime although it is perhaps unavoidably dictatorial, would meet the situation in a manner which furnishes a remarkable contrast to the usual one sponsored by international finance and capitalism.

Mexico's President

Lazaro Cardenas, since he became President in 1934, has succeeded in effectively curbing the typical epidemic South American revolutions, not as a powerful warlord financed by industrial interests, but essentially as a fine statesman and first class strategist.

He has consolidated his position of power not merely by relying on his army and air-force whose loyalty he commands but by working out a programme of economic reconstruction and prosperity of the masses including a large population of the Indians and 'mestizos'—he himself has a large strain of Tarascán Indian blood which explains some of the characteristics of his temperament and personality.

Cardenas' Career

The career of Cardenas has been a remarkable one. He is a real proletarian who had to leave school in his boyhood and later to join the printer's trade. At the age of 17 he joined the army and soon rose in its ranks with the ability with which he had been gifted. It was the experience he gained during his years of military service and in armed revolutions that he could later utilise in managing the problems of his administration when he was made Governor of one of the States under Calles and, subsequently President. Although he was a protege of Calles, the first thing he did on assuming office was to deport Calles out of Mexico and settle down to a programme of peace and organisation of the national life on a basis of betterment of the conditions of the masses.

Incorruptible, unlike most dictators, Cardenas is a man who possesses the coolness of judgment, lofty idealism and vision of a real leader and his greatest virtue has been his dislike, combined with a great courage and statesmanship of violence. If he has ruled as a dictator he has done so not by terrorising the population but by inspiring them with a confidence and loyalty spontaneously drawn from a grateful people.

His Policies

Cardenas has had his international prestige enhanced recently when he gallantly offered hospitality to that modern wandering Jew, Leon Trotski, who has been hunted out of every capital and corner of Europe. That he exploited this act to have the party organisation weakened is another matter.

The storm raised in the capitalist, servile Press it may be recalled against Mexico's anti-Church acts has by now almost died out. Himself a pronounced anti-clerical, all that Cardenas did was not to prosecute the Church but to take the sting out of that institution. To quote him:

"There is perfect liberty for any religion in Mexico. The government feels no hostility toward the church and does not persecute it. We must, however, like previous governments, enforce State laws limiting the number of priests to protect ourselves. We have merely placed the church where the priests cannot meddle in politics. The priests now realize this and have, for the most part, ceased making anti-government propaganda abroad."

The Spanish civil war easily demonstrates the Mexican President's wisdom.

Friend Of The Masses

Cardenas' achievement so far is considerable. He believes in education as an important factor of Mexican progress. He has introduced expropriation laws under which land could be given to the landless peasantry and peons. He has stood for better wages for the industrial workers challenging and facing, in doing this, the dangerous hostility of foreign capitalism.

This, more than any other single factor, explains his hold on the loyalty of the Mexican masses whom he is trying to serve with the single hearted devotion of the idealist and revolutionist that, in spite of his tactical experience both as a soldier and politician, he has always remained. Cardenas is a really strong man because he relies on his own strength even as a dictator and in this he is certainly a unique exception to the rule of modern dictators.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

IMPLEMENTING THE TERMS?

Only a few days ago it was reported that Mr. A. K. Fazlul Haq, disappointed with the ways of the executive in respect of the terms of the Jute strike settlement, had threatened to resign. The allegation, of course, was a highly exaggerated injustice to the Premier of Bengal. But it did create some sensation. And, any way, there were many immediate alarms and excursions involving even the Labour Secretary, to say nothing of the poor Minister, in un uncomfortable journey from the cool heights of Darjeeling to the uninhabitable plains of Calcutta. There were even serious conferences, discussions and promises of implementing the terms and so on. The results have not yet materialised. But, in the meantime, according to a Calcutta message, Mr. Roy a Trade Union leader and member of the Central Strike Committee of the Jute Workers' Union has been arrested "in connection with proceedings under Section 107 Cr. P.C. started against him and eleven prominent Labour workers." It is not necessary to add any comments.

HOFMEYR'S HYPOCRISY

In view of certain remarks made by Mr. Pirow recently, the assurance now given by Mr. Hofmeyr, that there is no change whatever in the South African Governments' Asiatic Policy will be welcomed with a good deal of relief both in the Indian circles in the Union and in this country. Mr. Hofmeyr not only categorically denied that the Union Government was contemplating the appointment of a Commission to invgestigate the problem of employment of Europeans by Asiatics, but on the other hand he observed that there was complete agreement between the Government and the Indian Congress regarding the interpretation and application of the assurance given by the latter. We in this country also appreciate Mr. Hofmeyr's statement that the Union Government placed a high value on the good relations prevailing between India and South Africa and that nothing would be done consciously to impair these good relations. But does not Mr. Hofmeyr know that the self-denying ban placed upon themselves by the Indian residents in the Union has been secured practically under the shadow of legislative coercion, and that it is viewed with acute resentment by all self-respecting Indians? To talk of good relations under the present circumstances unfortunately smacks of a good deal of self-complacent hypocrisy.

EMBARGO ON CLOVES

The Zanzibar Indian Association has made one more appeal to the Government of India to put an immediate embargo on the importation of cloves from Zanzibar into India. In spite of the protests of the Indian traders, as also of the Government of India, the Zanzibar Government is determined to carry the obnoxious Clove Growers' Association Bill through the forthcoming session of the Council without any modifications whatever. The only self-respecting course now left to the Government of India is to declare a complete embargo on the Zanzibar cloves. No doubt this will have serious consequences for the Indian traders concerned, but as any way the creation of a monopoly is bound to ruin their interests sooner or later, it is best to take the extreme step at once, especially when a responsible organisation like the Zanzibar Indian Association is itself demanding such a course. And, moreover, it is very likely that an embargo will soon open the eyes of the Zanzibar Government.

PEASANTS' PLIGHT

The peasants' grievances which were described at the Betul Kisan Conference under the presidentship of Mr. Indulal Yagnik are not peculiar to Central Provinces The crushing burden of land revenue, the Malguzar system, heavy indebtedness and subjection to forced labour are all evils which prevail, in one form or another, all over rural India They constitute, as it were, a heavy millstone perpetually tied to the peasant's neck—a burden from which he has no escape throughout his life. It is thus that India's rural population has been reduced to rankest poverty and to a social state bordering on mediaeval serfdom. All the so-called "Rural Uplift" schemes of the Government have utterly failed to improve their lot. A few studbulls and patronising but unpractical advice of bureaucrats are but poor palliatives for a malady which is as deep-rooted as the present economic system. The plight of the Indian peasant is, indeed, a standing challenge to the humanity and social sense of the Government and all those who have been responsible for it.

YOUTH'S LOYALTY TO CONGRESS

The resolution of the U. P. Youths' Conference pledging support to the Congress as the most effective anti-Imperialist front in the country is but a formal reiteration of the faith which the politically-minded youth of the country have always had in the great national organisation. Their record of service in all spheres of Congress activity has been splendid and memorable. It is but natural, therefore, that they should once again seek to serve their country under the leadership of the Congress. We are glad that the Conference urged youths to strengthen the Congress and to work in furtherance of its programme. Let them, however fully realise that their earnestness in this cause will be judged not so much by resolutions and speeches as by solid and constructive work which they achieve.

Mr. Jhabwala And Strikes

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—In your dak edition of to-day's paper received here, I see that Mr. S. H. Jhabvala excuses, and therefore, accuses himself for the mutton strike and alleges that the whole affair was bungled by the two gentlemen he names.

One is led to enquire of him how many strikes Mr. Jhabvala "led" to success. Will he say with how many strikes he was connected? We know the success of the dhobis strike and the taxi strike. Till Mr. Jhabvala has led a strike to success, will he bury his head under the ton of hair he carries on his head—Yours, etc.,

L. R. TAIRSEE.

Lord Zetland thinks it a tragedy that as a result of the Congress attitude "many men of brilliant attainments and high ideals were being lost to the service of India."

This is rather an ungrateful compliment to the more brilliant attainments and higher ideals of the other "many men" who have been gained to the service of-er-er-India.

* * *

Tragedy? What humbug and nonsense. It was a providential happening. It gave India Coopers, Kamblis, Mehtas, Yunuses, Chataris, Raos and Reddis.

Praise be to the Lord—Zetland.

* * * *

Lord Zetland, however, mentioned Mr. Yunus particularly "who was confronted at the outset, with a serious outbreak of communal trouble and in the face of grave personal danger, succeeded in arranging a compromise between the contending forces".

Two things must, however, be immediately made clear and as widely and publicly as possible.

(1) The particular mention of Mr. Yunus did not imply any invidious discrimination 'against' other 'interim' Ministers, and

(2) Speaking on May 31, Lord Zetland could not possibly have intended the compliment as a pointed hint to Sir Dhanjisha Cooper.

* * *

By the way, belated though it may be, we must congratulate Mr. Yunus on his bravery.

We never knew that he was ever confronted with "grave personal danger".

We blame the Publicity Managers. Or perhaps they have had too strenuous a time doing justice to Mr. Yunus' shorts, shirts, spades, shovels and baskets elsewhere to see the possibilities in his visit to Aurangabad. Any way Lord Zetland did, and that is more than a compensation.

* * *

The severance by Democratic Swarajists of alleged "official connection" with the Congress is "wholly consistent with their own creed and performance".

—Anglo-Indian.

We entirely agree.

* * *

Addressing a "National Volunteers" O.T.C. at Poona the Honourable Comrade Jamnadas Mehta stressed "the need of courage and discipline in rehabilitating Hindu Society".

By the way, what is "discipline" in terms of Democratic-cum-Swarajist Nationalism?

* * *

The Honourable Comrade "counselled them to remember that only the brave got the best in the world".

He did not mention his own gallantry as a decisive and striking instance in point. Which we hope was a tribute not only to a sense of inherent modesty but also to the intelligence and understanding of his audience.

* * *

Hindu Society, said Comrade Mehta was "the weakest in the world, and "Hindus to-day were mere caricatures of their ancestors".

The Junior Colleague recalls Mr. Jinnah's clarion claim that Muslim Society was the most backward and disorganised and that Muslims were "nowhere" to-day.

And begs to advise that both together constitute the makings of a major communal deadlock, each party accusing the other of trying to invade its special rights.

Unemployment Constitutes Danger To Govt.

Sapru Emphasises Immediate Need For Opening New Avenues Of Life For Youth

LONDON, May 31.

Education and unemployment in India was the theme of an address by Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru to a distinguished gathering at the East India Association, London, this afternoon presided over by Lord Lothian and included Sir Sayajirao Gaikwar, Sir Ernest Hotson, Sir Ramaswamy Mudaliar and Mr. Lumley.

After referring to his chairmanship of the Committee appointed by the U. P. Government to investigate the problem Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru dwelt with the dangers to Government and Society of the acute problem of unemployment among educated men and suggested that new careers must be opened up for young men, cottage and heavy industries developed and more ample provision made for technical and agricultural education.

Sir Tej Bahadur also emphasised that the problem cannot be effectively brought under control without a radical alteration of the whole system of education which bore no relation to the actual life and environment of the boy.

Those not likely to make good by receiving literary education should be diverted to something more practical and receive vocational practical training.—Reuter's Special.

Jamnadas At It Again!

Discovers Congress Minority in Bombay Assembly

POONA, June 1.

The Hon. Mr. Jamnadas Mehta, Finance Minister, Bombay Government, who came here yesterday, left for Bombay to-night to attend the Finance Ministers Conference to be held there on June 7 and 8.

Before departure the Finance Minister met 40 young Democrats in the meeting hall of the "Kesari" Office when he refuted the allegation that the Ministry was unconstitutionally formed, by saying that under section 50 of the Government of India Act the Governor's right of forming the Ministry was not a matter of discretion but statutory obligation. If the contention of the Congress Party was correct, no Ministry could be formed in Bombay as no single party commanded an absolute majority. The pledged votes of the Congress Party were 86 in a House of 175, giving them a minority of three. This fact was sufficient to dispose of the oft-repeated criticism in Congres circles.

Mr. Jamnadas Mehta also said that the action of the Congress in not accepting office was a direct invitation to the Governor to take action under section 93 of the Act which would restore the regime of bureaucracy at the expense of democratic government. He and his colleagues had stepped in to prevent such eventuality.

Mr. Mehta finally exhorted the Democrats to carry on the Ministerial programme to voters, and agitate public opinion in its favour.—United Press.

Harwood League

Close Victory For R. A. Colaba

Bombay United Go Down Fighting

BOMBAY, Tuesday.

Tuesday's game, in the first division of the Harwood Football League, between the R. A. Colaba and the Bombay United at the Cooperage was a close affair and after a tough fight for supremacy, resulted in a narrow victory for the former by an odd goal in three

The losers played a great game, particularly in the second half, when they completely overshadowed their opponents, who luckily scored a last-minute winning goal. On the run of play a draw should have been a fitting result

THE GAME.

The Artillerymen opened strongly and continued pressing their opponents for a considerable amount of time, during which period, the Bombay United also had occasional break-aways. The former came very near scoring on several occasions but failed to hit the mark due to hasty and erratic shooting.

Seeing the Artillery forwards kicking above the bars, time and again, even from close quarters, some of the soldiers in the stands, shouted, "Same Old Place."

Towards the end of this half the Indians relieved pressure and kept on the offensive, when at one stage, Shanker, their Inside-left, missed a good opportunity that came his way from a near range.

At half-time the score-board read blank.

BETTER DISPLAY BY BOMBAY UNITED.

Though the soldiers again opened strongly, their opponents did not take long to relieve pressure and at times completely overshadowed the former.

The Artillery forwards twice tested the opposing goalkeeper without result.

Immediately afterwards the Unitedmen broke away nicely and Michael, who was in possession of the ball, gave through pass to his wing, who in turn centred for Mari, their centre-forward, the latter making no mistake in finding the net but the goal was disallowed as Michael was pulled for off-side.

ARTILLERYMEN OPEN ACCOUNT.

In the 6th minute after resumption the Artillerymen succeeded in obtaining a lead, Collins, the Left-half sent in a timely pass to Collett, their centre-forward, who opened the account with a first-timer.

Soon after the Bombay United were awarded a corner and Jamnadas sent in a fine rising kick which could not be utilised, it was Michael again, who was pulled this time, for obstruction.

Manek, Bombay's well-known Indian Right back, who distinguished himself in the two tournaments before this, played far below expectations this evening.

BOMBAY UNITED DRAW LEVEL.

The Bombay United who were playing a better game at this stage and were making desperate efforts to draw level at last succeeded, when following a good combined move between Jamnadas, Michael and Shanker, the latter scored with a hard shot a few minutes before the end.

Encouraged by this success, the Indians had definitely the upper hand now and were unlucky to score following a melee in front of the goalmouth. Wilkis, the winner's left-back, clearly made use of his hand in clearing the ball from this melee and it was a pity the referee overlooked it.

Hardly a minute before the final whistle, Collett, the winner's centre-forward, scored the winning goal to bring out his side victorious by 2 goals to 1. Dadoo played a good game at centre-half for the losers.

THE RESULT:—
R. A. COLABA ..... 2 goals.
BOMBAY UNITED ... 1 goal.

THE TEAMS:—
R. A. COLABA: Smith; Brack and Wilkis; Turner, McDermott and Collins; Lord, Galliers, Wilson, Collett and Perry.

BOMBAY UNITED: Sitaram; Manek and Mandon; Suvarna, Dadoo and Prem Lal; Jamnadas, Michael, Mari, Shanker and Aziz.

JEPSEN CUP HOCKEY.

CHRIST CHURCH OLD BOY'S "A" IN SEMI-FINALS.

The "A" and "B" strings of Christ Church Old Boys contested the right to enter the semi-finals of the Jepsen Cup Hockey Tournament played on the Christ Church grounds this evening, and although the "A" team registered their account early in the first half and followed it up soon after with another point, it must be said that the "B" string were definitely unfortunate, having on several occasions lost the ball on the point of scoring through sheer bad luck.

THE GAME.

The game opened up with the "A" string forcing the pace, and after the sixth minute Durham their left-extreme sent in a high shot following it up, and as soon as Turner the opposing custodian stopped Durham scooped the opening account,—"A" still maintained the pressure, and soon earn an unproductive short corner, off which a free hit resulted in favour of the "B" String which set their forwards going and Michael their left-inner missed a great opportunity of equalising, following this up and down play remained the order, and again the "B" String got going when Jeffrey's the inner right tested Durham with a feeble shot which he saved, two minutes after their centre half broke in solo only to be deprived on the point of scoring, the game then swung round in favour of the "A" String and twenty minutes after the start Coutts puts his side ahead,—spurred by this disadvantage the "B" team forwards got going and a nice movement sees Boult their outside right cut the circle with a nice pass which H. Lloyd their centre-forward drove in first time to reduce the lead, the interval followed with the "A" team one goal to advantage. In the second half the "B" team had the better of the game, and for a considerable time held their opponents to their area giving the defence an anxious time, midway through Walsh and then Peters drove in two hot shots in quick succession, which Turner the "B" team custodian saved, a minute after Blake the "A" team centre forward beat Turner with the third goal. Towards the closing stages the "B" String were working hard, but the "A" had the better of the game.—Pereria and Samson with their sound custodian Turner, proved a stubborn proposition to the opposing attackers, and the final whistle finds the "A" String enter the semi-finals by three goals to one.

THE RESULTS:—
CHRIST CHURCH OLD BOYS "A" 3
CHRIST CHURCH OLD BOYS "B" 1

THE TEAMS:—
CHRIST CHURCH OLD BOYS "A":—Durham; Almedia and De Soysa; Barnett, Harper and Lloyd; Walsh, Peters, Blake, Coutts and N. Durham.

Torikhel Tribes Make Peace Overtures To Govt.

Food Scarcity Said To Curb Enthusiasm For Aggression

BANNU, May 31.

A bag containing documents has been seized from the Faqir of Ipi's Arsalkot cave when it was captured recently.

The documents have been handed over to experts. It is believed that fresh light may be thrown on the whole trouble if the papers turn out to be as important as supposed.

The Torikhel Tribe, who have hitherto borne the brunt of the fighting under the lead of the Faqir of Ipi are reported to be losing enthusiasm. They have suffered terrific losses and are faced with an unprecedented scarcity of food.

They are reported to have made peace overtures to the Government, and the latter have dropped messages by aeroplane on their territory calling a Jirga on 10th June.

As however, such a Jirga cannot meet without the co-operation of the Government, the latter are expected to lift the blockade on the Torikhels and allow the meeting of the Jirga.

The Faqir of Sawa, who is known for his fidelity to the Government hitherto, though recently contrary reports were current to which the Government refused to give credence, is reported to have offered to act as mediator.

It is believed, however, that the condition precedent to any relaxation of the present operations will be the unconditional surrender of the Faqir.—A.P.

THE CAPITOL

Mid-week Change Of Programme

Swift as a speed-boat, novel as a circus and packed with laughter, "The Rainmakers" opens today (Wednesday) at the Capitol Theatre and the picture deserves rating among the best comedy features given to the screen by Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey. Placing Wheeler and Woolsey in the roles of scientific "rainmakers" "The Rainmakers" offers unlimited opportunity for suspense and humour. One sequence should not be missed by lovers of drama and fun combined—the rampage of two dynamite-laden locomotives, with Wheeler and Woolsey in the engine cabs and the terrific head-on crash that follow.

ATTACK ON TRAIN

How Enemy Were Repulsed

SIMLA, June 1.

Further details are now available of the attack on the train from Lakki to Manzai in Pezu Pass on May 24. An escort of one company and one section of machine guns of the 1/13th Frontier Force Rifles was on the train suitably disposed for defence. The train was stopped by a party of enemy standing in a deep cutting, on the banks of which other members of the gang were disposed. The light machine gun which had been placed on the engine at once opened fire, while the enemy on the banks of the cutting fired into the coaches.

A section of the machine guns opened fire from a compartment, and on this the enemy withdrew. The banks of the cutting were too steep for the escort to detrain and follow them The train was restarted and proceeded to Tank without further incident.

It appears that raiders did not expect to find troops on the train, and were themselves surprised at being received with machine guns and rifle fire. The enemy are believed to have suffered casualties, but details are not yet available. —A. P.

KOTTAPATAM SCHOOL CASE

Transfer Application In Madras High Court

MADRAS, June 1.

Mr. Jagannadha Das, Advocate, appeared before Justice Mr. King, the vacation Judge of the Madras High Court, to-day and represented that he was withdrawing the petition for a "writ of Habeas Corpus" presented on May 27, on behalf of Mr. Venkatasubbayya and others, who were arrested and charge-sheeted under section 17-I of the Criminal Law Amendment Act for being members of the Kottapatam Summer School of Economics and Politics, which has been declared unlawful by the Government.

TRANSFER APPLICATION

The counsel stated that he was filing two separate petitions—one for enlarging the accused on bail and the other for transfer and stay of proceedings pending before the First Class Magistrate of Ongole.

The main ground of the transfer of application was that a notification was issued by the Madras Government in the name of the Governor, notifying the said school as an unlawful association, was illegal and 'ultra vires' in view of the fact that the Government of Madras as functioning at the date of notification had not been properly constituted in accordance with the Government of India Act of 1935 and that consequently the order purporting to declare the school as unlawful had not been passed by the properly constituted authority.

In view of the importance of the question of the law raised in this case which was of unusual difficulty, the petitioners have applied for transfer of the case to the file of the High Court. The Petitions will be heard on June 3, at his lordship's residence.—United Press.

CONGRESS ASSURANCE, NO COMPULSORY UNDERTAKING

Question Of European Employment Under Asiatics In South Africa

SIMLA, June 1.

Inquiries in regard to the report of a commission being appointed to investigate into the question of employment of Europeans by Asiatics in South Africa show that the Government of India are awaiting information on the point. While the Indian delegates at the Imperial Conference are discussing the matter with Mr. Hertzog, the Prime Minister of South Africa, the latest position seems to be indicated by the pronouncement of Mr J. H. Hofmeyr, that there has been no change in the Government's Asiatic policy. The issue was settled by the Prime Minister, who accepted unconditionally the assurance given in this matter on behalf of the South African Indian Congress.

There seems to be a great deal of misconception about the assurance given by the South African Congress. The import of that assurance is the Congress will use their influence to remove from service European girls under Indian employment, when particular exception is taken to such employment. For instance, if a European girl is employed in an Indian shop, in a solitary non-European locality and the girl lives in the premises of the shop, the Congress will use their good offices if objection is taken But, in the case of Indian shops in Johannesburg or in places where a European personnel has to be maintained for catering to European customers, no objection should be taken. Further, the assurance does not mean any compulsory undertaking.

It appears the Indian community in South Africa is satisfied with this assurance and there seems no reason why any grievance should be made of that here. If no such assurance was given, probably legislation would have been undertaken, making a general prohibition of the employment of Europeans by Indians. Meanwhile, no action is contemplated by the South African Government by appointment of a commission or otherwise, as Mr. Hofmeyr stated.—United Press.

WHY HE WAS EXCLUDED FROM ISLAM CLUB

Ali Bahadur Khan Cross-examined In Defamation Case

Two reasons were assigned by Mr. Ali Bahadur Khan for his being excluded from the "Islam Club" meeting on October 16, last year, in the course of his cross-examination at the resumed hearing of the Defamation Case against Mr. R. K. Tatnis, editor of a Marathi weekly, before Mr. R. Mathalone, Presidency Magistrate, Mazagaon, on Tuesday.

It will be recalled that the case is a sequel to the publication of an article in "Vividh Vritta", alleging that Mr. Ali Bahadur Khan was partially responsible for the communal riots in Bombay, in October last.

REASON FOR EXCLUSION

In reply to a question, Mr. Ali Bahadur Khan stated before the Court that he thought that the reason why he was excluded from the "Islam Club" meeting was two-fold. Firstly, he had already started a Relief Committee before others proposed to form one, after a meeting at the "Islam Club", on or about October 16 last. Secondly, some of the Muslim leaders were jealous of him.

Q: Who were they? Sardar Suleman Casum Mitha, Allaya Seth and Mohommed Ali Allabux.

Q: Mr. Sultan Chinoy also? Yes, I have not attacked him much, although I have done so in the case of others, as they interfered much in Muslim politics.

COST OF TRANSLATION

After cross-examination of Mr. Ali Bahadurkhan was over, discussion raged between the Prosecution and the Defence counsel over the matter that half of the expenses incurred in getting some relevent extracts of the complainant's paper, "Hilal", translated, should be borne by the complainant.

Mr. M. T. Khaderbhoy, for the complainant, resented the 'change of front' presented by the defence at that stage and remarked that he had supplied them copies on previous occasion.

Dr. Ambedkar retorted that copies were supplied with regard to the subject-matter of the charge and that they were bound to do so.

Mr. Khaderbhoy pointed out that it was not so and added that he gave the copies because the Court compelled him to do so.

NO COMPULSION

Court: It is not so, Mr. Khaderbhoy. I never compel the parties to do anything of the sort.

Mr. Khaderbhoy: At least I took it so, your worship.

Court: I am sorry if you did so. I never compelled you

At this stage, further hearing of the case was postponed to June 17.

Mr. M. T. Khaderbhoy, assisted by Messrs E. M. Pereira and Mohomed Ibrahim appeared for the complainant, while Dr. B. R. Ambedkar with Messrs S. M. Varde, S. H. Awar and R. N. Panday defended the accused.

THE THREE MUSKETEERS

BY ARAMIS' WINDOW.

At the request of Madame Bonacieux D'Artagnan then went to the Louvre to tell M. de la Porte, the queen's valet de chambre, where she was hidden. Madame Donacieux had told D'Artagnan which entrance to use and had given him the password as she dared not go there herself.

When walking home at about 10 o'clock after having delivered the message he was lost in reveries about Madame Bonacieux. He had come into the vicinity of Aramis' appartment, however, when he saw a lady enveloped in a cloak approach one of the windows of the house and tap the shutter, which was at once opened a little whereupon the young lady delivered a handkerchief.

"What on earth does this mean?" thought D'Artagnan.

AN UNEXPECTED MEETING.

A lady received the handkerchief, so it was not a lovers' meeting.

The veiled lady returned. D'Artagnan, who was standing in the shadow, recognized Madame Bonacieux. When she had recovered from her first terror and had perceived that it was not a stranger who was stopping her but her rescuer and protector, she entreated him not to try to assist her in that which she was doing.

"Don't question me," she cried, "for it is not my own secrets but those of others I am serving." She stopped before a front door.

"Now you must go, do you hear. Somebody is waiting for me, I have more to perform." And now she raised her hand which D'Artagnan kissed passionately, and then left the place at a run.

Mobilising Forces Against Imperialism

Congress Socialist Party Manifesto For London Conference

BOMBAY, June 1.

"Socialism in India and Ceylon" will be the theme of a conference on June 5 and 6. The conference is being called under the joint auspices of the All-India Congress Socialist Party and the Lanka Sama Samaj (Ceylon Socialist Party).

Efforts are being made to make the conference representative of all sections in the British Labour world, so that there may be a proper appreciation of the work done by Socialists in India and Ceylon. Mr. V. K. Krishna Menon, the London Secretary, All-India Congress Socialist Party, is working hard to make the conference a success.

There will be several sittings of the conference at which discussions will take place on such topics as the Indian mass awakening, the Agrarian problem, Industrial, Labour, Plantation Labour in Ceylon etc. Mr. G. R. Strauss, M.P., and J. F. Horrabin will preside over these sittings.

MANIFESTO FOR CONFERENCE.

Following are the relevant extracts from the manifesto of the All-India Congress Socialist Party, which will be read at the conference:—

"The All-India Congress Socialist Party came into existence in October, 1934. The Party was formed by such Congressmen as were Socialists, and as such had come to believe that a new orientation of the national movement had become necessary involving a re-definition of its objectives and revision of its methods. It was natural, therefore, that the organisation that had sprung up to meet the needs of the situation should be named the Congress Socialist Party, signifying its organic relationship—past, present and future—with the national movement. That relationship has been the main source of the strength and the success of the Party, because in the conditions prevailing in India, Socialism and Nationalism are not conflicting but are complementary forces.

UNITED FRONT.

The Chief and immediate task facing the Socialist Party today is the creation of a powerful national front against imperialism. It is clear that in that attempt, it is the Indian National Congress, which is the only organisation, which has led major struggle against Imperialism in this country and which has already succeeded in uniting diverse elements seeking national liberation, that we must take as the basis and the starting point. But the Congress, as at present constituted, has not yet become an adequately consistent and effective anti-Imperialist force. Our task is to make it such, and it is a task which the Congress Party alone can effectively perform.

JAWAHAR'S SUPPORT.

Much has already been done in this direction in the short period of the Party's existence. From Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, India's foremost Socialist, the Party has received consistent and valuable co-operation. As President of the Congress, he has been able to remove to a great extent prejudices and misunderstandings about Socialism and has thus contributed to the process of radicalising the Congress rank and file and giving the entire national movement a socialist orientation. To-day, the Congress is in a period of transition and its leadership is no longer undivided. It speaks with two voices, and that of Jawaharlal and the Socialists is increasingly securing attention. The Left Wing in the Congress is being mobilised increasingly under the leadership of revolutionary socialism.

The Party has already succeeded in getting the support of the Congress for the immediate economic demands of the peasantry and the working class and has made the Congress realise the value of the formation of peasants' and workers' unions and the need for giving active support to them in their day-to-day struggle.

The Party is also striving to secure the collective representation of organised peasants and workers in the Congress organisation.

POLICY OF DEADLOCK

The fight of the Party for the wrecking of the Imperial constitution embodied in the Government of India Act, 1935, has met already with a large measure of success. Two years of persistent agitation has resulted in the Congress accepting the wrecking of the constitution as its objective, and the refusal of the British Governors to give the requisite assurances has resulted in the vindication of the Party's stand and the immediate creation of that constitutional deadlock for which the Party has been striving. It was at the invitation of the Party that the call for the nation-wide general strike on 1st April, 1937 was given.

The Congress Socialist Party was the first organisation in India to give the call for resistance to war and to call on the Congress "to decide unequivocally against participation in any war in which the British Government may be involved and to prepare the country for resisting it actively." At its Lucknow Session in 1936, the entire Congres echoed that call.

If the Congress has recently looked abroad and evinced greater interest in international events and struggle, as by condemning the great Powers and the League of Nations for their policy during the Italian conquest of Abyssinia and by expressing sympathy for the Spanish people in their struggle against Fascist intervention, it has largely been due to the efforts of Socialists.

The tremendous awakening among the Indian peasantry in the last year or two has resulted in the organisation of an All-India Kisan Committee, largely under the initiative of the members of the Party.

In the direct action struggle of the peasants and workers, the members of the Party have always been in the forefront. To-day in several districts of Bihar, they are leading the directions of the peasants against the oppression of the zemindars and in Calcutta in the protracted strike of over a hundred thousand jute workers.

SOCIALISTS READY

"War clouds hang heavily over the world to-day, and we Socialists the world over, may soon have to participate directly in a struggle such as our brave comrades in Spain are to-day fighting on our behalf. The storm may burst over us at any moment and we assure our comrades that the Congress Socialist Party in India will not fail to play when that day comes.

We hold out our hands across the seas to the comrades who meet in London to understand our work in this country and to show their solidarity with us and to all others who are with us in the fight".—United Press.

(BY "M. A.")

A story about China written by the daughter of an American Missionary born in China, Chinese parts played by Yankees, but the surroundings and, atmosphere as near as possible Chinese—and that of interior China. The funniest part of the picture is the Yankee actors with slight Chinese features "speaking American" with American background music, that is "The Good Earth" produced by M-G-M.

If I suggested that we could produce Shakespeare plays in Hindi or Marathi with Indian actors and Indian music background often would consider me crazy. Englishmen would—we are dark or brown Englishmen! But here is a picture of that type which is admired by Indians as by Englishmen. It is "Chinese" in every way—they say. The acting is Hollywoodian and yet they admire—in India. Is that a proof of inferiority complex in us? We don't consider it so. Surely it is another proof of our Anglicisation of Westernisation. For, the same thing is considered crazy if done by us.

It is another matter if the Chinese admire the picture also. They may consider it derision of China by Yankees. I do not know if it is banned in China for showing pig tails, slavery and second wife. Anyway the camera work is excellent. Not only because it is much Russian in angle as the Potemkin or "Storm over Asia", but because the Chinese atmosphere on the village is well depicted whether taken on the "location" by background projection" or "made in Hollywood."

The cameraman can learn much if he has eye, as to what could be shot in exterior locations, in the country. Every detail of life on the field is shown realistically and artistically but only the essential. It is also the work of the scenarist to incorporate such features which please the eye and broaden the vision or the mind. Just showing the exterior of the village hut is neither scenario writing nor camera work: All the exterior and all that surrounds the hut, the work inside and outside and the scenic background belongs organically to the perfect picture.

The interior architect or artist has not shown American old style furniture and fittings side by side with the modern in the picture under consideration as our Indian "directors" would do "to show taste" our director is everything, expert on everything on earth and heaven—naturally does hotch-potch work and what is worse gets appreciation for it—from the company (or financiers, which is red in dance). We have no interior artists to decorate or imitate tastefully or stylishly, with studied attempt, why, our very dresses and make-up are of all styles, ages and climes. A great joke, stunt from Director's standpoints. What cannot be done?—is the viewpoint of directorial artistry. It must go into the picture.

As regards Yankee acting, dialogue and interpolations in a Chinese picture—we can be of divided opinions. It may mar the picture or make it more "interesting", curious. That is not the point in this appreciation.

Mr. G. Vadangekar has made magnificent sets for this picture while the photography and audiography has been controlled by the two technicians Mr. K. V. Machave and G. L. Kale. Mr. Govindrao Tembe is responsible for the Music Direction assisted by Mr. Balaji Choukule.

"SAVITTRI" GOES ON LOCATION

(CONTRIBUTED.)

With the impending approach of the monsoon the out-door scenes of the Bombay Talkies picture "Savitri" are being briskly completed. Having finished a location in the suburban hills, a whole unit including all prominent artistes and technicians has proceeded to Ahmednagar where some important exteriors have to be shot in the idyllic surroundings. The unit will return after about four or five days by which time some of the most gigantic "sets" which are to be used in this picture will be ready. Already the carpentry, the modelling department and the art section are all busy day and night creating the atmosphere of the by-gone past to transfer this great epic to the screen. The music department is busy, too, composing, rehearsing and recording songs which are expected to be something even better than the musical fare so far provided in Bombay Talkies' pictures. Devika Rani and Ashok Kumar both sing in the picture and having heard them before one may naturally expect melody of a high order.

In a few weeks, it is confidently believed, "Savitri" will be completed. Its release is scheduled for Roxy where it will immediately follow "Jagirdar".

"JAGIRDAR"

At The Roxy

(CONTRIBUTED.)

On the 6th of June Sagar Movietone's sensational social picture enters the 2nd week.

The picture opened to large crowds on the very first day, but the reports of the 1st day made things unusually riotous on the next day. Large crowds, hours before the show, needed police presence for control. The day's takings established a new box office record at the Roxy.

Looking to the crowds, the picture seems to have caught the fancy of the people, and at the present stage it is very difficult to predict the number of weeks the picture will run in Bombay.

The excellent duets sung by Surendra and Bibbo—that popular pair have been responsible for the rush. While the people in general like the story, it has numerous gripping situation right up to the very end.

In his prime of youth Jagirdar Surendra falls in love with Neela Bibbo a playmate of his village.

Despite the time-worn obstacles and refusals of parents, they mate as husband and wife after a secret wedding. But on the threshold of their happiness Jagirdar Surendra is compelled to leave on a distant sea voyage. Right in the wake of this parting, come heart-breaking news of a disaster at sea and the young Jagirdar is reported as lost. Heart broken, Neela turns to her parents but is turned out. She appeals to Society but is rejected. She invokes the help of Divinity, but is not heard. Could she commit suicide and in doing so kill her child who was innocent of the sins of its parents? See the picture.

Motilal as Ramesh, the young son with borrowed parentage gives a superb performance which you will remember for months. His love-maid Maya is the new sensation of the day. Her personality is vibrant enough to give young men many uncomfortable moments.

But Surendra as the "Jagirdar" is extraordinary.

"THE PRESIDENT"

At The Krishna Talkies

(CONTRIBUTED)

The treatment of "The President" is based on the most modern screen technique. Theme of the picture is "love and greater love" which deepens itself after very continuous sequence is most cleverly written and directed.

Main stars are Saigal, who tops all his previous performances, with Kamlesh Kumari, Leela Desai, Nawab, Jagdeesh B.A., Bikram Kapeer, etc.

The music set by Sjt. R. C. Boral is really inspiring and makes a picture breathing with emotions. "The President" is worth seeing—not once—but many times. Go and see it at the Krishna.

"DHANWAN"

At Opera House

(CONTRIBUTED.)

Ratan Bai, that versatile star who rose to giddy heights of stardom in the New Theatres' "Yahoodi Ki Larki" and has since vindicated her reputation for sincere portrayal of emotional roles, will be seen this week at the Royal Opera House when her latest film, "Dhanwan", produced by the Imperial Film Co., will be released on Saturday the 5th June. In this story written by the famous dramatist of the Punjab, Hakim Ahmad Shuja, Ratan Bai gets ample opportunities for displaying her histrionic and singing talents and she makes good use of them. For Ratan Bai's songs alone a picture deserves to be seen but in "Dhanwan", there is much else to be seen and enjoyed. The story itself is very interesting revolving as it does round the characters of a millionaire's son and a beggar's daughter against the background of life in big industrial city. Elements of love, romance, intrigue and suspense are nicely blended to produce a picture which has great popular appeal.

Opposite Ratan Bai, in the male lead is Hafeejee with whose character portrayals the fans are well familiar. In "Dhanwan" he gives yet another striking performance. Jamshedji, W. M. Khan, Syed Ahmad and Urmila are other noteworthy members of the cast. And they all provide excellent support to the versatile and talented Ratan Bai.

ZENANA SHOW OF "ACHHUT KANNYA"

Last Few Days At Opera House

Despite keen competition from new pictures "Achhut Kannya" continued to hold its own during this week. Indeed, the present revival of this popular picture which has already run about half a dozen times in different cinemas in the city has proved that its appeal is far from exhausted. On Saturday the 5th June, however, it is being definitely replaced by the Imperial picture "Dhanwan" and, therefore, these three days are the last opportunity that "Achhut Kannya" fans will have for some time of seeing their favourite film.

To-day at 1-30 p.m. there is a special Zenana show and the ladies of Bombay have thus a chance of having a show of "Achhut Kannya" exclusively for themselves.

It is reported that th epicture is full of trick scenes and abounds in gorgeous settings and outdoor mountain scenery. Especially the scenes taken at the Girsappa Falls are wounderful.

"JOURNEY'S END OR JEEWAN SWAPNA"

At The Imperial

(CONTRIBUTED.)

They are indeed happiest hours to be at the Imperial to see "Journey's End" or "Jeewan Swapna" Sangeet Movietone's picture now drawing packed houses at the Imperial cinema, Lamington Road, running in its third glamorous week.

A. Hussain, the Versatile star of the Indian screen, is at his best here, with that long awaited beauty Queen Miss Mehtab with her charming action, Marutirao with soul stirring song hits with Shantidevi, Sangeet's magnificent new find all these have played their respective main roles so magnificently, so artistically as to make this picture one of the best ones India has produced so far, and it can be said with fullest satisfaction and pride, that "Jeewan Swapna" or "Journey's End" is surely one of the best ones if not "the best" as others already acclaimed.

Through her "Jeewan Swapna," Bai Jaddanbai has most successfully shown us that the monopoly of cine art and technique, does not solely lie in the hands of those few men of much noise "Jeewan Swapna", produced and presented by a woman, Bai Jaddanbai is undoubtedly a high class picture demanding special praise and appreciation. If duly encouraged by the public, she can surely play marvels in the cine field.

Do see this picture at the Imperial if you love cine art, real music and real technique.

CONGRESS PARTY IN PUNJAB ASSEMBLY

Ambitious Programme For Budget Session

LAHORE, (By Mail.)

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava, leader of the Congress Party in the Punjab Legislature, has issued the following statement:—

"The first session of the Punjab Assembly lasted for one week only. The most important items were the Salaries Bill and the Removal of the Disqualification Bill. The Congress Party and the other parties, who form the Opposition Party, tried their level best to fix the pay at Rs. 500 per mensem. Some friends suggested more that the Treasury benches did not condescend to agree to a pie less than what they had suggested.

As for the removal of Disqualification the Opposition Party tried to keep the House truly democratic. The idea was that such persons who could not work independently of official influence should be debarred from becoming representatives of people. The Premier saw that their idea was that the election system shall be introduced in the village for Lambardarship etc. We saw that we would agree to removal of Disqualification when the elective system was introduced.

Mian Iftikhar-ud-Din who was a Lambardar spoke strongly on the basis of his personal experience so much so that he announced that he would resign the Lambardarship immediately and thus sacrificed an income of about Rs. 6,000 a year.

PLANS FOR BUDGET SESSION.

"Now the budget session is to begin in the middle of June and I feel it is my duty to inform the the public what we propose to do in this session and invite their opinion. I shall therefore try to enumerate some of those points which either we are moving resolutions or proposing bills.

"We hear that cut is being proposed in the salaries of Provincial Government servants or lower grades of pay are to be fixed for new recruits. We are of opinion that the cut or grade should not affect those who are drawing Rs. 1,000 a year and the minimum pay to a Government servant should not be paid more than Rs. 500 a month.

"Some friends have sent certain suggestions to us. We have given them our fullest consideration. The Educated Unemployed League has also sent us their suggestions for relief to the unemployed. We have considered them. The points are as follows:—

1. Demand for a Constituent Assembly.
2. Demand for release of all political prisoners, interness and detenues.
3. Demand for repeal of all repressive laws.
4. Demand for reduction of military expenditure, reduction in higher civil salaries, for freedom of speech, press and association, opposition to war preparations credits and loans, and for national control over tariffs and currency.

Out of these some are central subjects and we shall convey our opinion to them.

5. Introduction of joint electorate and adult franchise in municipalities.
6. Abolition of system of nomination in municipalities.
7. An effort for relief to petty shopkeepers from debt.
8. Minimum wage for labourers.
9. Fixation of hours for labourers and health insurance for labourers.
10. Unemployment.
11. Repeal of Anti-Labour laws.
12. Facilities for Education and Medical relief.
13. Following measures to be adopted for relief of unemployment:—

A. Establishment of Information Bureau.

B. Encouragement of all cottage and village industries.

C. Government to prefer products of such industries to others.

D. Compulsory and free primary education and compulsory technical or vocational secondary education and higher education for those who show special aptitude for higher professional or literary education.

14. Total prohibition.

RELIEF FOR AGRICULTURISTS.

15. Demand for following measures for agriculturists and agricultural labourers:—

A. Land revenue and water cess to be reduced by 50 per cent. in five years.

B. Minimum Economic holding i.e. say 5 acres in canal and well irrigated areas and 10 acres in Barani are to be free of all taxes and rents. Proprietors of these holdings should be relieved of debts.

Government should settle with the creditors—such holdings should be in—abieuable

C. Panchayats to be established, on old lines and all village officials under them to be elected.

D. Land Revenue to be assessed on graduated basis.

E. Fixity of tenure in cases of tenants at will.

F Minimum wage to be fixed for agricultural labourers.

G. Halsayat tax on graduated basis—a minimum income to be free of such tax.

H. No other taxes to be levied in villages.

I. Abolition of all kinds of forced labour.

J. Relief from indebtedness on lines adopted in Bhavnagar State.

K Provision of pasture land in village.

L. Village products and industries to be protected.

16 A. Members of Scheduled caste to be included in Schedule of agricultural tribes in terms of land Alienation Act.

B. All civic rights to be given to members of scheduled caste.

APPEAL FOR SUPPORT.

This programme would sound very heavy and ambitious. But still there are other items which deserve our attention. Though ambitious yet it is most essential. We cannot improve the lot of our countrymen. We can improve them economically if we bring about the above changes immediately.

"I also think that there should be no difficulty in adoption of above programme because all the parties who have returned their nominees professed and even now profess to work on these lines.

"I would request all those who are interested in the prosperity of the province to inform me of their view on the above mentioned points and also favour us with suggestions on other points. My party shall deem it a great privilege to serve the masses in a way which would be conducive to prosperity and happiness and to complete Independence of the country."—A.P.

WHY HE WAS ATTRACTED TO CONGRESS

S. I. Zemindar On Utility Of Village Industries

MADURA: (By Mail).

The first session of the village Reconstruction Conference in the Aruppucotta Taluk was held on May 26 at Gopalapuram village under the presidency of Mr. P. S. Kumaraswami Raja, M.L.A., President of the South Ramnad District Board.

Messrs. P. S. Kumaraswami Raja M.L.A., K. Kamaraj, M.L.A. Zamindar of Palayampatti, A. V. Aidvanatha Iyer, President of the Tamilnad Harijan Sevak Sangh and other Congress workers were taken in a procession by the members of the Reception Committee of the Conference, from the outskirts of the village to a decorated pandal where the Confernce was held.

Mr. K. S. R. Dasarad, declaring the Conference open said: The aim of all thinkers in this country was to do the greatest good to the masses, peasants and agriculturists. The Congress programme contained not merely the best ideals of this end but also a working programme. The Board principles of the Faizpur Congress and Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru's autobiography had provoked him to much thinking as to the necessity of improving the lot of the poor in this country. He had been attracted to the Congress for the above reasons.

Mr. P. S. Kumaraswami Raja, M.L.A., President of the Conference then delivered his address.

Mr. A. Vaidyanatha Iyer, President of the Tamilnad Harijan Sevak Sangh, Madura, then addressed the gathering on "Rural Reconstruction Work".

Sri Seethalakshmi Ammal of Madura, spoke on "Advancement of Women".

Mr K. Kamaraja, M.L.A., condemned the present Interim Ministry and justified the demand for assurances by the Congress from the Governors. The Conference then passed several resolutions congratulating His Highness the Maharaja of Travancore in throwing open all the Hindu temples in the State and hoped that the example would be followed in other places also.

The last resolution condemned the action of the Government in the formation of the Interim Ministry which in the opinion of the Conference was illegal and unconstitutional and amounted to flouting the clear verdict of the electorates in the Province.—A. P.

POLITICIANS RAISE REBELLION IN IRAQ

But Popular Govt. Put Down Samawa Rising, Says Consul-General

BOMBAY, Tuesday.

The Acting Consul General fo Iraq, Bombay, writes:—

According to cable information received here regarding the recen tribal rebellion in Samawa, (Diwaniya, Iraq), it appears that th tribes were instigated to rise i. arms against the present regim by a few political malcontents, wh were also concerned in similar activities against former Government

POLITICIANS AT THE BACK.

These politicians are reported from Government sources to hav supplied the tribes concerned wit. smuggled arms and ammunitio. As three of the ring-leaders of th rebellion were members of th Chamber of Deputies and the Senate and as such enjoyed parliamentary immunity, Governmen had to rush through both th. Houses special proposals to divest the above mentioned persons of these privileges which both Houses accepted. This was followed by the arrest of the three ring-leaders.

Troops were also immediately dispatched to the affected area and the rebellion was successfully put down and was not allowed to spread beyond Samawa. The guilty were brought to book and punished and the Government is in full control of the situation. The prompt action taken by Government not only saved a dangerous situation but it also saved much loss of life and damage to property.

POPULAR GOVT.

Samawa situated in the Liwa of Diwaniya has been receiving considerable attention of the present Government. By way of rural reconstruction, Government have constructed roads, bridges and irrigation works to help the tribes and it was surprising that despite this, the rebellion should have taken place here. Moreover the present Government, under Hikmet Sulaiman, has been popular with the nation owing to its forward policy in nation-building activities, especially in education, agriculture, improvement in internal means of communication such as well, coordinated road system and irrigation schemes all over the country, thus giving employment to about 70,000 of Iraq's citizens. The Government have also resorted to their rightful owners properties confiscated by previous Governments. Nearly 50 persons, who were banished from the country by former Governments have been allowed to return.

FOREIGN POLICY

In the matter of external affairs Government have negotiated treaties of friendship with neighbouring countries. Only recently, the Minister of Foreign Affairs and the Director General of the same department, returned to Iraq, after negotiating an important Treaty with Syria and Turkey. A delegation was also sent to Yemen for the same purpose. Another important pact is at present being discussed with the neighbouring Islamic countries of Turkey, Iran and Afganistan.

Thus it will be seen that the people are behind the Government and fully approve the policy of the present regime. At present the Government is the powerful master of the situation and peace and tranquillity prevail all over the country.

OIL SHARES VERY STRONG

British Authorities Buy Gol-'

(SPECIAL CABLE)
LONDON, June 1

On the Stock Exchange the attention was focussed on oils in which the declaration by Anglo-Iranian of a total distribution for the year of 25 per cent plus a share bonus of 50 per cent exceeded highest expectations and led to a burst of activity with several appreciable gains. Elsewhere the markets were idle though the undertone was rather steadier.

An all time record was seen at the gold fixing to-day when the metal valued at £18,15,000 changed hands, almost all being taken by British authorities. The metal was offered heavily after the fixing, but business was small owing to the absence of buyers. The market later steadied, buyers entering the market and sellers withdrawing.

Wall Street opened easy.

B. B. & C. I. Railway Passengers' Grievances

The Acting General Traffic Manager, B. B. and C. I. Railway, writes:—

In your issue of the 25th May 1937, you published under the heading "B. B. and C. I. Railway Passengers' Grievances" a letter from a correspondent in which reference was made, 'inter alia', to the beggars and hawkers nuisance, and to the withholding of a deposit on an expired season ticket surrendered late.

With regard to the former, it may be of interest to your correspondent to learn that the staff employed to prevent this nuisance, have recently been augmented by a number of additional selected men, who have been organised into anti-mendicant and anti-hawker gangs under responsible officials.

If the travelling public will assist to the extent of refusing alms to beggars, and refraining from making purchases from hawkers in trains, it should prove possible in course of time to end the nuisance.

Concerning the season ticket deposit complaint, Railway rules provide that a refund of deposit can be obtained if a season ticket is surrendered not later than the day following the date of expiry.

To avoid inconvenience to passengers whose season tickets expire on a day preceding a Bank Holiday, season ticket offices are opened on all such holidays.

The hours of business are notified by notice boards displayed at the various season ticket offices. The same information is also published in the Company's Coaching Tariff.

Long Liquidation In Liverpool Cotton Market

RAINS IN OKLAHOMA AND TEXAS

Sentiment Disturbed On Spanish Situation

Bombay, June 1.

On Monday the New York cotton futures market was closed and the New Orleans Cotton futures market ruled quiet on scattered liquidation induced by favourable weather. Garside states that world consumption of cotton is being maintained and estimates the season's total consumption of all cotton at 30,250,000 bales. Crop progress is good except for dryness in South texas Cloth activity is slow in America and abroad whilst mill activity is receding in America and France but holding elsewhere. The New Orleans market closed at a decline of 9 to 10 points with Spot Cotton 9 points down at 12.97c. per lb.

LIVERPOOL MARKET.

The Liverpool Cotton futures market opened at a decline of 6 points with October 7.09. There was hedging and local selling of new crop months on favourable weather reports and particularly beneficial rains in Oklahoma and Texas. Later on situation in Spain disturbed sentiment and with scattered selling the market closed at a net decline of 9 to 10 points. Middling American Spot Cotton prices declined 3 points at 7.35d. per lb.

EGYPTIAN COTTON.

Egyptian Cotton futures market was easy on increased selling and Sakels futures closed 14 points down with Spot Cotton 11 points lower at 11.52. Uppers futures also declined 15 to 9 points and Spot Cotton prices closed 3 points lower at 9.72d.

ALEXANDRIA MARKET.

The Alexandria Cotton futures market was weak on heavy general selling and Sakels futures closed 48 to 25 points down. Ashmouni futures closed 7 to 17 points lower.

EGYPTIAN CROP

"As I predicted in my last cable the first Giza tenders were large, the 9,000 cantars, and their good absorption in contrast with the difficulty encountered in the absorption of 5,750 cantars of Sakel encouraged a speculative movement resulting in a widening of the Sakel-Giza 7 difference to about 200 points. Speculation was obliged to receive part of the Sakel tenders, reselling immediately. It is noteworthy that 90 per cent of the total was tendered by shippers, confirming my previous opinion that substantial transfers had been placed.

TENDERS.

I believe that the second tender will amount to 15,000 cantars of Giza 7, probably at the same differences. Receivers of May Giza 7 apparently straddled against July Sakel, and I therefore foresee the delivery of a large proportion of these tenders against July Sakel contracts.

Uppers have been very firm, especially old crops, showing the scarcity of contracts and emphasising the strong statistical position. There is a probability of a narrowing of the Uppers-Sakel difference

CONFUSED STATE.

The recent fall, combined with manipulation, has confused speculators, who lost the majority of the gains which they made on the rise, and they are likely now to operate with more moderation, so that I do not anticipate any major fluctuations until the arrival of the season of crop rumours.

TRADE DEMAND.

Spinners' demand is very small for Sakel and Ashmouni and negligible for Giza 7. Premiums are unchanged but slightly firmer for Ashmouni. Sakel is in better demand, but most of the purchases are for stock account at the present satisfactory prices and in the expectation of hardening premiums to offset the weaker Sakel contract arising out of fears of tenders of Giza 7.—"M.G.C."

DECLINE IN LIVERPOOL WHEAT

Bombay, June 1

Messrs. M and B Stern state:—

Liverpool wheat declined sharply on favourable American weather reports and absence of Continental demand. Winnipeg eased further on better Canadian weather reports.

"Wheat Germany and Italy resumed buying. Crop outlook Europe improved. North America generally favourable. Advise purchases on declines."

"Linseed steady. Shippers reserved but demand poor. Passage supplies to continent reduced sharply which suggests resumption demand. U. S. A. crop generally favourable. Expect small fluctuations."

Sharp Drop In Steel Shares

PROFESSIONAL UNLOADING ON UNWILLING MARKET

Demoralised State And Lack Of Confidence

BOMBAY: June 1.

The local Market ruled weak to-day with Professional unloading. The market was unwilling to absorb offerings and Steel shares registered a sharp decline.

Professional selling in Tata Steel Dfds. unnerved Jobbers, who also began to sell and with general selling Steel shares registered a sharp decline.

It is generally believed that some unfavourable development is likely to have marked influence on share values. It was freely stated that some Calcutta firm was in difficulties and weakness in Gold prices increased easiness. The undertone of the market was easy with lack of confidence.

The Market being narrow with a marked absence of outside business, found selling pressure too great and prices had to give way to attract buyers.

The heavy selling in Tata Steel shares also influenced some liquidation in other sections, which also ruled easy. Cotton Textile, Cement and Hydro-Electric shares declined.

Tata Steel Dfds. opened to-day at Rs. 1,620 and eased off. to Rs. 1,480, while Ordinary shares also after declining to Rs. 334 rallied slightly on covering.

Contracts were passing into stronger hands and to-day's decline was mostly due to outside factors.

USEFUL BROCHURE

Guide To Indian Cottons

The East India Cotton Association Limited, and the Indian Central Cotton Committee, Bombay, have jointly brought out a brochure, under the title of "A Guide to Indian Cottons", with a preface by Sir Purshotamdas Thakurdas, Vice-President of the Indian Cotton Committee.

The need for such a brochure is widely felt by those in the Cotton trade.

In view of the fact that Indian Cottons are attracting greater and greater attention in the world's markets, the 'Guide' will supply a long-felt want.

The information contained in it has the stamp of authority on it since it has been brought with the kind and full co-operation of the several commercial bodies and the various Directors of Agriculture, all over India.

TABLES OF STAPLE LENGTH

The technical information given in the brochure was collected by the Technological Laboratory of the Indian Central Cotton Committee, situated at Matunga.

A table of the staple length, blow room loss and spinning performance of the various growths of cotton under average mill conditions is given at the end of the book which will be found very useful.

Dealing with the characteristics of Indian cottons under Bengals, Broach, Oomras, and Southerns in a detailed manner, the 'Guide' brings out the varying trade names by which they are known in different geographical districts where they are produced.

This information is bound to be very useful to the consumers of Indian Cottons both in this country and abroad, in picking up cottons suitable to their particular requirements.

The get up of the book is quite attractive and it can be had from the Secretary, Indian Central Cotton Committee, Post Box No. 1002. Bombay It is priced 6 annas.

Jamnadas Mehta's Tactics Exposed

Tilak Fund Raised Specifically For Political Agitation

Presiding over the Political Conference of Yaval Taluka in Khandesh District at Bhalod which opened on Tuesday Mr. S. K. Patil, General Secretary of the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee, referred to the speech of Mr. Jamnadas Mehta at the Panval Conference of the Democratic Swaraj Party and described it as the bluff of a man upon whose mind weighed the guilt of his own conscience.

Mr. Jamnadas Mehta, he said, was playing the part of "His Master's Voice" in a most superb manner. In the defence of the Government's policy, Mr. Jamnadas Mehta had even outdone the Provincial Governors who are the representatives of the British Government.

"Everybody in this Presidency knows the political career of Mr. Jamnadas Mehta. While accusing the Congress of "volte face" Mr. Mehta forgets that during the last twenty years or more that he has been in public life he has been a quick-change artist, changing his parties and programmes oftener than he could remember.

Newspaper readers are aware that prior to the acceptance of Ministry by Mr. Jamnadas Mehta was a loud exponent of non-acceptance of ministries. On more than one platform he has criticised the Congress for its inclinations towards office-acceptance. I know it very well that even a day or two prior to his being invited by the Governor to accept his condemnation of the so-called 'interim' ministry, Mr. Jamnadas Mehta did not disguise his condemnation of the so-called 'interim' ministry. But immediately a miser.

It is a well-known fact that Mr. Mehta did not contest his Assembly election on the ticket of the Democratic Swaraj Party but he was the nominee of the Railway Union which had nothing to do with the Party and programme of the Democratic Swaraj Party.

With all its tall talks and venomous attacks against the Congress, the Democratic Swaraj Party could not secure more than four seats altogether in both the Houses of Legislatures. They were a party completely routed and condemned in the eyes of the public. However, when Mr. Mehta wanted to accept the ministry in his own interests, he fooled the party and made it a cat's paw for his own purposes. I wish some of the other leaders of the Democratic Swaraj Party had seen through the game of Mr Jamnadas Mehta and acted differently.

Fallacious Logic.

"By his fallacious logic, Mr. Jamnadas Mehta is once again trying to side-track the real issue. Nobody is concerned in the least whether the paper programme of the puppet ministry is good or bad. The question is one of principle and not of mere merits of a programme.

I can assure my friend Mr. Jamnadas Mehta that if a prize competition was announced in the Press for the best programme on paper, there would be thousands of contestants much cleverer than Mr. Mehta who would come out with a decidedly better programme than the one which he and his colleagues have put forward.

We do not take exception to the programme as such; it may be good or it may be bad. But we certainly take exception to the most unpatriotic and undemocratic attitude of Mr. Mehta and his colleagues in the 'interim' ministry in choosing to form the ministry against all the accepted cannons of democratic principles and institutions.

Foul Attack.

"Mr. Mehta must sincerely thank the Congress for the spirit of tolerance that it has produced in this country. The foul attack against the most popular institution and its leaders which Mr. Mehta has indulged in and can be tolerated only in a country like India.

Mr. Mehta has laboured in vain to explain the Delhi Resolution of the Congress. It is said that fools rush in where angels fear to tread and no better practical illustration of this can be found than in the action of Mr. Jamnadas Mehta.

Blinded by the temporary glory of his position Mr. Mehta forgets that he is used by the Government to do the work which even they would feel ashamed to do for themselves.

Mr. Mehta expects the Congress to be sportsmanlike and watch his political somersaults with interest and equanimity. If there was anything like statesmanship in Mr. Jamnadas Mehta, he would have been the first to resist the temptation of selling his country's interests in the way he has done. He is a sportsman of the type who begins to play his sport after everybody has left the field.

Tilak Misrepresented.

In his Don Quixotic performance to abuse the Congress in as foul a language as possible, Mr. Mehta has dragged in the name of Lok. Tilak. He should have known that he is the man least fitted to take the name of Lok. Tilak.

Lok. Tilak taught the nation to fight the Government. To drag in the name of such a great patriotic leader as Lok. Tilak, in defence of an anti-national attitude, is the height of political buffoonery. Tilak's heritage is a national heritage and it is foolish to say that either Mr. Mehta or Mr. Kelkar is in sole charge of it.

There is one more undignified attack which Mr. Mehta has made to fool the public. He is reported to have stated that the Tilak Swaraj Fund was not utilised by the Congress to perpetuate the memory of the great patriot. It is sheer waste of time to reply to the silly arguments of this description. Everybody in this country knows that prior to the collections of this Fund, it was made abundantly clear by Mahatma Gandhi and other Congress leaders who collected this Fund that the greatest and the fittest memorial that could be raised to honour Tilak's memory was the establishment of Swaraj in this country.

The Fund was meant to be spent for political agitation for the establishment of Swaraj. In his desperation to defend his position, Mr. Mehta should not have degenerated into making statements knowing that they are false.

"Mr. Mehta is ostensibly jubilant over the fact that Lord Brabourne has accepted his programme in toto. Where is the harm for the Governor of a Province to accept the programme not a bit of which was going to be realised so long as the present unconstitutional ministry continued to function?

Playing Nero

Mr. Mehta has made an appeal to the Congress not to ignore the programme. The Congress does not at present bother itself with any programme, whether it is put forward by Mr. Mehta or a man in the street. The Congress wants the real transfer of power. We are not satisfied with a crumb here and a crumb there which can be secured, with the connivance of the Governors.

The whole stand of the Congress is against the acceptance of a subordinate position in which Mr. Mehta and his colleagues seem to luxuriate. Mr. Mehta has let the cat out of the bag by making an appeal to the Civil Liberties Union to protect him and his Party from popular attacks against their misdeeds. The Civil Liberties Unions are not only sold their own liberties but even the liberties of their countrymen. In his own interest Mr. Mehta would be well advised not to play the Nero any more."

Concluding Mr. Patil made a strong appeal to all Congressmen gathered in the Conference to stand firm on the principles which the Congress has upheld and to be ever prepared for any struggle that might advance them towards their cherished goal of complete independence.

Ultimately the meeting was adjourned to July 7.—United Press.

Khalsa College Strike Still Unsettled

Students Plan To Adopt New Tactics

AMRITSAR, May 31.

Although the strike and picketing of the Khalsa College continued to-day, the strikers attempted to change their tactics by sending two batches of five each to enter the college premises after breaking through the scouts cordon formed by the college authorities.

The Principal announced that he would not get his students arrested but outsiders would be arrested. Two outsiders who accompanied the batches were caught and released after being brought out of the college.

Attempts at settlement by various leaders have proved infructuous as both sides are unwilling to yield. The strikers are expected to change their tactics to-morrow.—A. P.

POONA, June 1.

From to-day, three new trustees have taken charge of the well-known "Kesari and Mahratta Institution," founded by Lokamanya Tilak in 1881.

During Tilak's life-time his two papers, "Kesari" and "Mahratta" and the Kesari Press were personal and proprietory concerns. In his last will made at Colombo in 1918, Lokamanya Tilak directed that the press and the papers should form the property of a trust.

After his death on 1st August 1920, a regular trust deed was made by his heirs and executors. Mr. N. C. Kelkar, Edior of the "Kesari", and Mr. D. V. Vidwansa, the Manager of the press and the papers, were appointed as trustees of the "Kesari and Mahratta" institution. Both Mr. Kelkar and Mr. Vidwansa had faithfully served Tilak during his life-time and they were best fitted for the trusteeship. They carried on the work of the trust for the last 17 years.
